Summary

Web Developer, always eager to find solutions to exceed customers' expectations and driven through achievements, goal oriented and open to new and changing technologies.

Currently studying a Diploma of Website Development, I started two years ago to gain more knowledge about the fields also throughout different online courses, and I am now working on bigger full stack projects.

I project myself working for a company that will give me the possibilities to enhance my skills and knowledge as a developer.

I am currently working as a territory manager for a food distributor, I have the right motivation and mindset for a career change.
